

Florida WIC Client Notice September 23, 2024: Refrigerated Lactaid Milk Recall

Summary: On September 20, 2024, HP Hood LLC announced a voluntary recall on certain 96 oz. containers of Lactaid Milk because the product may contain trace amounts of almond, which is not listed on the label. People who have an allergy or severe sensitivity to almonds may run the risk of serious or life-threatening allergic reaction if they consume these products. No illnesses have been reported to date.

The products listed in the chart below may have been purchased with WIC benefits. This recall applies to only those products that contain the code 51-4109 P2 and the Best By Date specified in the chart below.

What to do:

1. If you have any 96 oz. refrigerated containers of the Lactaid products listed above, check the code and expiration date.
2. If the information matches, and the product was purchased using your Florida WIC EBT card, you may return it to the store where it was purchased to exchange it for an unaffected product, if one is available.
3. If you or your family are experiencing an adverse reaction after consuming this product, immediately call your health care provider.
4. For more information, contact Hood Consumer Affairs at 800-242-2423 Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. ET.
5. There are other Lactaid items that are potentially contaminated, which are not available through Florida WIC. For a complete list please visit: HP Hood LLC Recalls Select Units of 96 oz Refrigerated Lactaid Milk Due to Possible Almond Allergen | FDA.
